

Extract from a Tablet of ‘Abdu’l-Bahá

Our hope is that the Spiritual Assembly of Rangoon may shine resplendent and become as delightful as the highest heaven, that eloquent words and sweet utterances may be voiced therein, that it may ever consult upon and determine the means of exalting the Word of God, and that it may resort to every possible measure so that the light of truth might shine forth in that country and the banner of divine guidance be unfurled therein.
